

The vest restraints that attach to the back of the seat are a necessary tool in the safe management and transportation of our children. If the rule is changed not to allow these devices then the use of the current type needs to be permitted until such time that an alternate device is made available.